

TESA Members can read Issue 103 Online

NEWS

- Harsco Eventlink and Harsco Rovacabin have been acquired by the Wernick Group, the largest independent supplier of specialist event cabins and modular and portable buildings in Britain

COMMENT

- Local Authorities should be making it easier for private companies to run events, to fill the gaps left by free council-run events, says Andy Cotton, Managing director of TAO Productions.

EVENT ORGANISER FOCUS

- It's been a busy Summer for event management and services company, E&MS. They sent us a report from the front line.

EVENT INSURANCE

- "All event insurance is much the same - the only difference is the price, and we don't need it anyway." It's a commonly held view, but one which is very far from being the truth, says Brian Kirsch, Managing Director of Event Assured.

VENUE FOCUS

- Cambridge is establishing an impressive reputation for corporate events, buoyed up by its academic reputation and photogenic College locations

HEALTH & SAFETY

- The National Film and Television School has been fined after a volunteer was left permanently paralysed after falling 2.25 metres from a mock staircase on set.

Event Organiser Magazine is the official journal of TESA (The Event Services Association), the UK body representing event organisers and suppliers to the industry. The magazine is published five times a year and distributed to key names in the trade.

- Become an Event Organiser Member
- Advertise with Event Organiser Magazine