

With the Queen's Diamond Jubilee and the London Olympic and Paralympic Games now less than a year away, UK event insurer Event Insurance Services is launching two new insurance policies created for event organisers planning celebrations for these landmark occasions.

Event Insurance Services is offering two specific event insurance policies for event organisers hosting street parties or events to mark the Queen's Jubilee in June and the Olympics in July and August of next year.

Lucy Scurlock-Jones, Managing Director of Event Insurance Services, said, "Now is the time for event organisers to tap into the array of opportunities that next year's celebrations will bring. Making sure insurance for street parties and events is in place early on means that you can get on with the planning and enjoy the celebrations when the day arrives. Our new 2012 policies are available from just £51"

Event Insurance Services provides affordable, reliable insurance policies tailored to fit the scale and style of every kind of occasion - from school fetes and small ceremonies to high profile weddings and events, says the company.

It was established in 1996 and works in both private and corporate sectors. For further information visit www.eventsinsurance.co.uk or call 0800 515980.
