

Adam Pike has been appointed Head of Events for the Conference and Live Events division of premier UK audio visual company Saville.

After joining Saville Audio Visual in 2004 as a Senior Technician Adam quickly acquired a taste for developing relationships with top clients and after securing an approved supplier contract with the Gherkin in London he took on the role of Account Director for Tesco delivering 350+ events both in the UK and across Europe.

As Head of Events, Adam is relishing the opportunity to incorporate a blueprint for integrating the latest event technologies together with key staff skills and support from leading suppliers to provide the ultimate in service and delivery within the industry. Adam explained: “Saville is a world class services company in AV/events providing levels of service that exceed clients expectations time and time again. This is in no small part due to the fantastic and passionate teams we have across our national network. We are all looking forward to the exciting challenges that lie ahead”.
