

After many years of successfully supporting Cancer Research UK, Wernick Eventlink has just signed a new three-year deal to supply equipment for their UK events. Between May and October 2013 Wernick Eventlink supported over 266 Race for Life events, including 4 new Pretty Muddy events, Shine and 19 Race for Life Twilight events. Products such as crowd control fencing and barriers, stages, trussing structures and pop-up marquees were supplied. These events raised over £60 million pounds for the charity.

Nick Wright, Equipment Suppliers Manager, Cancer Research UK – Events, commented: “We are delighted to be working with Wernick Eventlink for a further three years which will allow us to develop and strengthen our partnership for the greater good of our event series. It is an incredible challenge for one supplier to provide the events infrastructure at all of these events (the largest events series in the UK) but Wernick Eventlink meet our challenges and exceed them every year ensuring that over 580,000 people have a great event experience.”

Cancer Research UK is the world's leading independent charity dedicated to cancer research. Funded almost entirely by the general public, they carry out scientific research to help prevent, diagnose and treat cancer. Hundreds of thousands of lives have been saved across the world due to their efforts.
